Pledges Make Debuts Friday In Annual Goat Show Skit

• FRIDAY NIGHT IS Goat Show night.

Pledges of the University's eleven social sororities will make their traditional debuts in the annual program, to be presented at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Lisner auditorium. The eight-minute skits will be planned on a "Travel Daze" theme.

Admission to the Goat Show is 25¢, plus a can of food, which will be donated to charity by the Junior Panhellenic Council, sponsors of the program.

The skits will be judged on originality, delivery, ensemble and audience appeal. University faculty members making the decisions will be Mrs. Eva M. Johnson, assistant professor of psychology; Carr B. Lavelle, assistant dean of the Junior College, and Chester M. McCall, assistant professor of statistics.

Dr. L. Poe Leggette, Depew professor of speech, will be master of ceremonies. A member of the University's drama board, Dr. Leggette served as emcee of last year's Goat Show.

Alpha Delta Pi will present "Is There a Harem in the House?" with Loretta Reeves as pledge director; Chi Omega, "A Coed from Paris," with Nancy Briggs as pledge director; Delta Gamma, "Puff! To Moon U," under Paty Martin, and Delta Zeta, "DZ on a Spree," under Pat Kallis.

Kappa Alpha Theta will offer "Br'er Ulysses Goes on an Odyssey," under pledge director Linda Lancaster; Kappa Delta, "Not Tiki," under Gail Evertsen; Kappa Gamma, "Der Student Who Was Un Prince," under Jean Mollahan, and Phi Sigma Sigma, "The Green Door," under Sandra Spivak.

Pi Beta Phi will present "The Seven Wonders of the Ancient World," with Jill Zell as pledge director; Sigma Kappa, "Reversing Time with Birdy," with Rita Bailey as pledge director, and Zeta Tau Alpha, "It's In The Book," under Joy O'Donahue.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded to the winning pledge classes. The winner of the Goat Show poster contest will also be announced officially.

All sorority pledge classes entered the poster contest. The winning entry is displayed in front of the Student Union, and other posters are exhibited on bulletin boards throughout the campus.

G. W. Hosts 400 Scientists For International Meeting

• THE UNIVERSITY WILL be host to an international symposium on optics and microwaves this week.

Approximately 400 scientists are expected to attend the symposium, which opens tomorrow at 9 a.m. in Lisner auditorium. The program includes two major addresses, six discussion sessions and the presentation of a new auroral theory.

The meeting is sponsored jointly by the Institute of Radio Engineers, the Office of Naval Research, the Optical Society of America and the University School of Engineering.

Dean Martin A. Mason of the School of Engineering will welcome symposium delegates at the opening session tomorrow morning. Thomas J. Killian, deputy chief and chief scientist in the Office of Naval Research, will deliver the keynote address.

Symposium Banquet

Thursday night at the symposium banquet at the Roger Smith hotel, Dr. Louis N. Ridenour will speak on "Communications and Navigation in Rocket Field Beyond the Atmosphere." Dr. Ridenour is director of research in the missile systems division of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

The new auroral theory will be presented by Dr. Willard H. Bennett, head of the atomic physics branch in the nucleonics division of the Naval Research Laboratory.

A series of technical exhibits will be on public display in Lisner lounge during the symposium. The exhibits will be open from 8:15 a.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow, from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. Thursday and from 8:30 a.m. to noon Friday.

All symposium sessions will be

Law Society Defeats C. U.

• THE UNIVERSITY LAW School's Case club defeated Catholic University November 5 to remain in the running for the 1956 National Moot Court championship.

Friday at 8 p.m. in the Court of Military Appeals, the University team will meet the winner of a case argued last night by teams from Georgetown University and Howard University. The winner of this round, as regional champion, will compete in the national finals in New York early in December.

Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark and two judges from the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia will judge the regional finals Friday.

Oral arguments for the University in the November 5 round against Catholic University were presented by P. Phillips Connor and George P. Coulter. Mr. Coulter and Charles S. Solomon will present oral arguments Friday.

Georgetown, as defending national champion, will send a team to the national finals regardless of the results of regional competition. Thus, should Georgetown present and win Friday's case, the University team will also advance to the finals, according to Mr. Coulter, president of the University's Student Bar Association.

Religion-in-Life Week Starts Friday Night

3 Major Religions Begin Programs At Thanksgiving

Greek Presidents Hear Talk; Groups Hold Discussions

• A SERVICE OF thanksgiving will open the University's annual Religion-in-Life Week Friday night at 8:15 at the Adas Israel Congregation, Connecticut Avenue at Porter St. n.w.

The service is the first in a series of three being held this weekend. Rabbi David H. Panitz will speak and Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank professor of religion, will deliver an address, "The Place of Religion in Education." O. S. Colclough, dean of faculties, will bring the greetings of the University.

Parallel Thanksgiving services will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday. Catholic students will gather at St. Stephen's Church, 2436 Pennsylvania Avenue, n.w., with the Rev. Edmund D. Benard as speaker. Fr. Benard is professor of apologetics at Catholic University.

Protestant Service

Protestant service will be held at the same hour in the University Chapel, 1906 H street, n.w. Dr. Albert T. Mollegen, professor of New Testament language and literature at Virginia Theological Seminary, will speak.

Three inter-group discussion programs are scheduled for next Tuesday at 8 p.m. A Protestant program, featuring Dr. Arthur S. Flemming as speaker, will be held in Woodhull house. Dr. Flemming is director of the Office of Defense Mobilization and former president of Tufts College.

Catholic, Jewish Programs

The Most Rev. Philip M. Hannan, Auxiliary Bishop of Washington, will speak at the Catholic program to be held in Lisner lounge. Rabbi Aaron Seidman, director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at the University, will deliver an address at the Jewish program at Hillel house, 2129 F street, n.w.

Religion-in-Life Week will close November 21 with regular University Chapel services at 12:10 p.m. Dr. Albert P. Shirkey, pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Church, will speak. Dr. Shirkey was president of the Washington Federation of Churches in 1955. Dr. Sizoo will preside at the service.

Order of Scarlet Taps at 'Messiah'

• THE ORDER of Scarlet, new honorary service organization for men, will tap its first members December 17, at the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in Lisner auditorium.

The group was formed under the leadership of Dr. Don C. Faith, director of activities for men. The organization is ruled by a board of governors who determine its policy and program.

Chairman of the board is Jerry Reinsdorf. Serving with him are Joe Hince, Ray Garcia, Jim Newheiser and Edmund Crump.

The honorary has been granted provisional membership by the Student Life Committee. Membership will be composed of sophomore and junior men who have demonstrated leadership potential in campus activities and men who have made major contributions to activities.

• DR. LEONARD M. ELSTAD, president of Gallaudet College, will speak at a Religion-in-Life Week dinner next Monday night at 6:15 in Lisner lounge.

Dr. Elstad will address an assembly of fraternity and sorority presidents, guest speakers and members of the Religious Council and the faculty committee on religious life. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank professor of religion and director of Religion-in-Life Week, will preside at introductions.

Religion will take the spotlight in fraternity and sorority meetings that evening. Fraternities will gather at five houses for intergroup discussions, while sororities will meet individually.

Discussion Groups

Leading Greek discussion groups will be Col. Daniel J. Anderson, attorney in the Air Force Reserve; the Rev. Jack W. Angerman, associate minister of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Henry Gichner, member of the education committee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; Dr. Clarence Headen, chief of the Far East and South Asia branch in the education department of the State Department's International Cooperation Administration, and Dr. C. Worth Howard, dean of faculty at the American University in Cairo, Egypt.

Cherry Tree Opens Drive

• THE CHERRY TREE, University yearbook, will open its sales campaign next Monday.

The drive will continue through November 29. Price of the yearbook is $6.00. Because the Cherry Tree is not included in the 1956-57 Campus Combo, the coming sales drive will be students' only opportunity to order the book, editor-in-chief Charlene MacDonald stressed last week.

Sales booths will be open in the Student Union lobby next week, Monday through Wednesday, and the following week, Monday through Thursday, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. Law School booths will be open November 20 and November 29 from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 5 to 6 p.m.

Booths in the School of Pharmacy will be open November 20 and 21 from 1 to 1:30 p.m. Engineering School booths will be open November 26 from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

A promotion contest for sales among fraternities and sororities has been announced by the Cherry Tree business staff. Two pages of candid photos of the winning groups will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority credited with the largest number of books sold. Any yearbook buyer, whether or not he is a member of a Greek organization, may credit his purchase to a group.

The sales drive is under the direction of Cherry Tree circulation manager Mary Ann Alderson.

Everybody Picked On J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"What's this I hear a vulture breaking up with your girl?" asked Sheedy's roommate. "I don't know," wailed J. Paul. "She gave me back my diamond wing and told me to hawk it. What makes her carry-on so?" "Beclaws your hair's a mess," said his roommate. "If feather a guy needed Wildroot Cream-Oil, it's you." So Sheedy went to the store and picked up a bottle. Now he's flying high with his sweetie again, because his hair looks handsome and healthy, the way Nature intended. Neat but not greasy. Wildroot contains Lanolin, Nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. So don't you stick your neck out taking chances with messy hair. Get a bottle or handy tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil the next time you're at the store. The girls'll soon be talon you what a handsome bird you air!

Old Men Accepts Applications Now For Membership

• PETITIONS FOR MEMBERSHIP in Old Men and positions on the executive board will be accepted in the student activities office in the Student Union annex through 5 p.m. December 5, the board announced last week.

The constitution of the men's orientation group has undergone complete revision in the last month, according to Old Men president, Ray Garcia. The date of petitioning, formerly in May, has been changed to the late fall, Mr. Garcia said, in order to give the new executive board the experience of working with a small group of incoming students in February before tackling the September orientation program.

The new board, he added, will also be able to call on the experience of its predecessors during its first semester of office.

Membership on the executive board, formerly ten, has been reduced to six. Officers will be the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, registrar and function chairman. The function chairman's duties, Mr. Garcia said, will combine the responsibilities of a social chairman and a publicity chairman.

To the established qualifications for membership in Old Men, a minimum Q.P.I. of 2.0 and participation in at least one University activity other than a social fraternity, a new requirement, has been added, Mr. Garcia reported. Prospective Old Men must have no outstanding debts to the organization.

In addition, to qualify for a position on the executive board, a student must have at least one year's experience in Old Men, and must appear before the current executive board for an interview.

Religion-in-Life Week

- THE ANNUAL Religion-in-Life Week, starting Friday, offers students the chance to hear both lay and religious experts discuss the most controversial religious topics of our times.

The various phases of the program are planned to reach all students and touch on all aspects of religion in everyday life. The program includes classroom lectures in fifteen of the fields of study offered by the University: Jewish, Catholic and Protestant services at two Washington churches and one synagogue, and fraternity and sorority discussion groups next Monday night.

For "doubters," the Religious Council has again planned the annual "Skeptic's Hour." This panel discussion, moderated by Dr. Fred S. Tupper, professor of English literature, is one of the most popular and interesting events planned. The speakers are Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish religious leaders and it is here the "doubter" may express himself freely and argue intellectually on any aspect of his faith.

Of special interest for those concerned with the relation of their faith to other faiths in the modern world will be the Inter-Group Discussion Programs. Students of each of the three major faiths of the United States will hear a religious leader speak on their relationship to others of different faiths after which there will be general discussion on the more particular aspects of living and working each day with people of different religions.

Thanks go to the Department of Religion, the Religious Council, and the Faculty Committee on Religious Life for the excellent six-day program they have planned. And to the students we say attend as much of the program as you can. You'll definitely find it worthwhile.

Busy Bette Sings With Troubadours, Works As Sec'y to Nine Doctors

by Phyllis Grossman

- BLONDE HAIR, BLUE eyes and a warm and vibrant personality go into the make-up of Bette Kolonia, this year's Homecoming Queen's chairman.

Bette, who was born in Worcester, Massachusetts, came to Washington 15 years ago when her father was appointed Minister from Albania to the United States.

A senior majoring in business education, this young lady makes use of every moment of the day. For three years Bette was a spirited cheerleader for the Colonials, and she has also been president of WAA, Special Projects chairman of Colonial Boosters, Big Six Registrar, AFROTC Queen of 1955, secretary of the Student Council, Sweetheart of Acacia fraternity for two consecutive years and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Quite a stream of activities!

Bette has also received the all-university badminton championship and the women's tennis team award. And the fact that she has been the recipient of two scholarships is proof of her high scholastic standing.

Travels With Troubadours

One of the most interesting phases of Bette's career at the University has been her connection with the Traveling Troubadours. As an alto, Bette has traveled with the group to many remote corners of the earth—including Bermuda, the Azores, Iceland, Greenland, Newfoundland and Labrador.

Last summer Bette was recognized as "Girl Friday" by the

BETTE KOLONIA

Washington Post and Times Herald because of her very efficient handling of the job she held as secretary to nine doctors at the University School of Medicine.

Recently Pinned

The weekend before last was a joyous occasion not only for Bette but also for her two brothers and her father, who are all former SAE members, when she became pinned to one very fortunate Tony Ketcham, also an SAE.

Letters To The Editors

Queen . . .

• DEAR SIRS:

I read with much interest your editorial entitled "Queen Selection" in the November 6th issue of the HATCHET. Serving in the capacity of Homecoming Queen Committee Chairman, I have taken an avid interest in the selection of the University's Homecoming Queen. Several points brought out in your editorial were, I thought, a bit misleading. I would like to point out that the 35 candidates during the past selection were judged on three categories: physical attractiveness (beauty), personality and charm, and extra-curricular activities. Each girl was brought before three judges, personally unknown, three times to be judged on physical attractiveness. The girl did not speak but just did a small turn and immediately left the room. Therefore the girl's personality and charm did not influence the judges' concept of her beauty. The judges rated each girl on a 1-7 point system.

After completing this category, the girls were brought in individually and they talked with the judges for 2½ minutes. At this time the judges rated them from 1-7 points on personality and charm. After this procedure was completed I personally read each girl's application. (Purpose leaving out the names of the sponsoring organizations and national sorority affiliations) stating whether or not she was a night or a day student so that they would be aware that some students, those who work, are unable to devote as much time to student activities as those who are day students. The judges then tallied their scores by placing the top 7 girls (7 in physical attractiveness, 7 in personality and charm and 7 in extra-curricular activities) on a separate sheet and each candidate's scores were added up. The top five girls were presented to the student body for final selection of the Queen.

Finalists Well-Qualified

Therefore, when you state "If the motion is adopted the selection of the Homecoming Queen will be assured of a selection on a basis of beauty plus personality" . . . I feel that you were not exactly aware of what the candidates were judged. I believe that all finalists were attractive and had very pleasant personalities and they had activities to boot. As the five finalists were selected by outside judges (all of whom were well qualified) in the same manner as you propose the Queen to be chosen in the future, any one of the five should have been well qualified to be the Queen. Do you realize that if outside judges pick our Queen that you may be even more dismayed by having to settle for the girl of their choice instead of your own! Politicking or no . . . the Queen is at least our own choice.

In order to keep complete impartiality at the Judging Tea, 13 hostesses, one from each sorority and a few independents, were present. The tea was held at the SAE House due to the fact that they do not sponsor a candidate, I think that is about as fair as any system could be.

Students Vote Elsewhere

After having read your editorial I contacted four local universities to see how they select their Queen. Here are the results of my calls:

1) American University—Candidates are put up by campus organizations and the entire student body narrows the group to three girls. A university panel of judges pick the Queen from the three. Students have a voice in the selection.

2) Catholic University—Candidates are sponsored by fraternities in the fall. The entire student body votes (this year 3,000) and open campaigning is carried on. Politicking yes . . . but student voice in the selection.

3) Georgetown University—No football team but Fall Festival Queen is selected by a student vote in the cafeteria. Again there is student selection.

4) Maryland University—Here is the only University that uses

Letters on these or any other subjects should be placed in the HATCHET mail box in the front hall of the Student Union Annex.

organized a committee to look into the situation and asked it to make recommendations in order to improve the status of Who's Who at Arizona. (At the University, almost any distinction is considered to carry greater honor than membership in Who's Who.)

Raise Standards

The committee recommended that the overall standing of the prospective member be thoroughly reviewed. These would include the grade average, which should always be several points higher than the overall average for men or women; activities, not just in how many the person was engaged, but to what extent he actively participated in them and how they contributed to the general welfare of the University; contributions to the school and fellow students; merit, personality and general excellence.

The "Committee" referred to in the above paragraph is composed of all members of the Student Council, Student Board of Financial Control, and various other student and faculty leaders. It is set up to review the qualifications of each of the candidates nominated.

Narrows List Down

After the first list has been tallied and presented to each of the committee members, discussions of the various prospects are held to determine the relative merits of each, and a first vote is taken. In this vote, committee members vote for the 25 candidates who, in their belief, are best qualified to represent Arizona in Who's Who. A second list is then compiled of the names of the people who received the greatest number of votes, and this second list usually contains about 40 or from 31-40 names. A second round of discussions is then held, after which the second vote is taken, and at which the committee members vote for the 10 or 15 they consider most highly qualified. Of this second vote, the names of those receiving the highest number of votes are then listed, in order of greatest to least number received, and the committee then decides where to draw the line delineating those who are to become members against those who are to be no longer considered (unless brought up individually for further discussion). Three members of the committee are chosen to count and tabulate the votes and to present the second and final lists to the committee at its subsequent meetings.

Quota Not Always Filled

Although the organization of Who's Who determines our quota, we do not always fill it; in fact, last year only 33 out of a possible 50 were chosen.

It has been my pleasure recently to become a member of the George Washington University student body by registering in the University School of Medicine. I hope that this letter may provide some suggestions as to possible improvement of the current status of Who's Who at G. W. U. and I wish to compliment you and your staff for the excellent coverage this problem has received in the University HATCHET.

Respectfully yours,

FOGGY

clusively to SAE Tony Ketcham and ZTA Bette Kolonia, and, at the Pika-Pi Phi exchange, Bernie Passeltiner and Betsy Evans.

Be it not forgotten the bangup Sadie Hawkins Dance is this Wednesday the 14th (8:30-10:30) in Building J. Li'l Abner and Daisy May winners will be chosen, Sue Steinberg and Skip Maraney will perform, Bob Daniels' Band will stomp it out, and Maurice Flowers will do the calling . . . let's all come!

And remember, George and Martha are watching you. (But who was that Goat at the Richmond game???)

by Hester Heale

WHOEVER SET OFF THE buckets of dynamite at the Richmond game Friday night inaugurated the weekend in true Buff fashion. The smoke at the bottom of the fog hasn't cleared yet.

Along historical old G Street the gay young fraternity lads were up to their usual antics. On the asphalt moor dividing Delta Shelter from Pike Mansion, the lads spurred on by the DG's and Pi Phi's, were bunny hopping, singing (raising the Buff extra high) and generally creating pandemonium enough to shatter the Sunday quiet.

Later, reports leaked through that the Pikes had held a celebration Saturday night at which Bang Bang Weaver had somehow persuaded cheerleader Inez Tonelli to exercise her lungs atop a table. Seen through the haze were: Tom Perkins and DG pledge Sally Paxton, Walt Jaeneck and Carol Wilson, Phil Dillon and DZ pledge Pat Kallis, Warren Lytle and Bev Stevenson, Steve Judge and KKG pledge Becky Hensel and Danny Lay and Janice Benett. That same night, former proxy Bob McLindin was married to Connie Kelly.

Meanwhile, down the street SPE's "Freedom Party" produced heroes of every description Saturday night behind Sig Ep's red doors. Pledges from SK, ZTA, AD Pi and Theta nearly started a revolution of their own before hero medals could be dispensed at halftime by new pledges Val Zabijaka (hero of Egyption Liberation Army) and Steve Bourland (ROTC hero), who escorted Gamma Delf Josephine Valenti and SK pledge Nadya Kayaloff. Hit of the eve was a sign reading "Eat at Stalin's" worn by Bill Clements, whose date was SK Nancy Leppert. Other comrades in party attendance included: pledge proxy Yodar Herbert and ZTA pledge Arlene Sanders, Hans Zassenhaus and AD Pi Henrietta Good, Stonewall Morrow and KAT Lisa Skirrood, Larry Doyle and SK Rita Bailey, Moondog and Theta pledge Pat Pierson, Gino Slatick and ZTA Jean Jacocks, and SPE proxy Bob Olson and Theta Sally Pyne. And, as if that wasn't enough, the Thetas, led by Sandy Thompson, invaded SPE Sunday aft for a whooping exchange.

Also Saturday night the TEP's celebrated the winning of the house decorations contest with a Come As You Are Party. Outstanding informalite awards went to Larry Olpert and Charlette

by Rhoda Ezrin

• AT THE REGULAR meeting Wednesday night the Student Council selected Herb Silver and Bernie Passeltiner as co-chairmen of the Senior Prom. The affair, which is being re-instated at the University, will be held in April.

Bob Shuker, Student Union chairman, announced that the Student Union Board will meet with the Claves management, operators of the Union cafeteria, on Wednesday, November 21, to discuss such problems as meals, menus and service. Mr. Shuker also said that the members of the Board will receive gold keys this year, not only as recognition of their service, but as a means of promoting the Board itself at the University.

Thanks

School of Government representative, Tom Smith, thanked Mr. Steve Judge for his recommendation that an Honor Roll be established for Government students. This idea is being considered by the proper authorities in that school. Mr. Smith also thanked Miss Joyce Capps for her suggestion that language classes, with three hours credit, be offered on Saturdays rather than evenings to eliminate time and travel problems for part-time students. This suggestion is also being considered.

Doris Rosenberg, activities director, announced the Sadie Hawkins dance to be held tomorrow night at 8:30 in Building 1. Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner will be selected at the dance, by faculty members, from candidates sponsored by school organizations.

Alpha Theta Nu

• HOWARD R. LUDDEN, assistant professor of political science, will address the members of Alpha Theta Nu at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Woodhill House.

The scholarship holder's service organization has chosen aid to the University Hospital as its major project for the year. Members will work in the admitting office and the outpatient clinic.

In the admitting office they will serve as receptionists, typists and guides.

Booster Winners

• TAU EPSILON PHI fraternity and Sigma Kappa sorority battled a brisk wind to win top honors in last Friday's Colonial Booster-sponsored house decoration contest.

Delta Gamma was sorority runner-up, with Delta Zeta finishing third. Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and Alpha Epsilon Pi took second and third places, respectively, in fraternity competition.

The final pep rally of the year will be held at 12:30 this Friday in back of Monroe.

"There's a gal who's going places!"

"She's a Service Representative for the telephone company.—they're all grand gals to know."

"Most of them are just out of college, and they really love their jobs. They're responsible for customer relations—help you arrange for telephone service, answer your questions—to hear them talk, they never have a dull day."

"They meet lot of interesting people, and they're well paid. Good starting salary with frequent raises. Opportunities for promotion, too. Convenient hours, modern offices—all around it's a good job for any smart girl."

Indeed it is! Perhaps you qualify. When your college days are over, call or write our College Employment Counselor, 725 13th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. She'll gladly discuss it with you.

Buff Ends Season Against Citadel

By Bill De La Vergne

SATURDAY'S GAME between The Citadel and the Colonials will be the season's finale for both schools.

For the Colonials, a victory would bring down the curtain on the most successful season since 1936. The Citadel will be trying to close their season with a respectable 4-4-1 record.

The Bulldogs employ the straight T formation and have one of the finest quarterbacks in the Conference to direct it. Bob Schwarze, who was supposed to be Army's signal-caller a year before flunking out, is the man. The Buff will have to keep a close eye on him.

At present, the Bulldogs are in seventh place in the Southern Conference standings. The major problem of Coach John Sauer has been lack of depth in experienced linemen. Al Baron is the only tackle letterman and guard Tom Margle is the only senior lineman. However, center Joe Keller and ends Bob Saunders and Darwin Watson rate highly in conference circles.

Capt. Budgie Broome of Greenwood, S. C., is the team's offensive spark at halfback and Ciro Masso and Dave Bochniowich are holdover line plungers who have been running well all season. Halfbacks Joe Cheffalo and Mike Siano, both of whom are proven hands, have also been carrying their share of the load this season for the Bulldogs.

Two of the four defeats suffered this year by The Citadel have been opponents that gave G. W. little trouble. They lost 7-3 to Richmond and 7-0 to Furman, while the Colonials won both by scores of 32-6 and 10-0. The comparative scores, naturally, have no bearing on Saturday's game and Coach Bo Sherman, his staff, and the entire G. W. squad realize this fact.

likes and preferences are many and varied.

One additional sidelight to Bo's life which deserves mention is his little, black Mexican Terrier, "Baby Doll." His face lights up in obvious delight in reminiscence about the eight pairs of shoes she has chewed and ruined. "Some girl," is his evaluation as he explains that she is theoretically the only girl in Welling Hall.

Bo feels that along with the unexpected development of several younger players, this year's football squad is the best he has played on mainly because of superior organization. He considers the V.M.I. game the outstanding Buff performance of 1956 and feels that the W. Va. outcome might have been different if the blocking had been better. Despite the loss of several lettermen, Bo says next year's team should be approximately as good as this one.

Rather nostalgic about being a senior, Bo mentions that he has lived in the same fourth floor rear room of Welling Hall, 415, for the duration of his stay at G. W. He feels that he may miss it at first. And if four walls can think, it may well be that they'll miss him too.

all the way with SPE never a threat.

Delta Tau Delta (A) sewed up the League B championship with an easy win over TEP. Sandy Schlemmer threw three touchdown passes. Schlemmer displayed his versatility by returning a punt 45 yards for another touchdown.

Sigma Chi, led by the talented arm of Russ Brannon, was victorious over the Law School in a close contest. Brannon threw two touchdown passes; one to Lou Fisher and another to Steve Stout. Both passes covered 25 yards.

Phi Sigma Kappa swamped Sigma Nu (B). Steve Gerachis scored twice on two short runs. Steve Bauk threw touchdown passes of 50 and 20 yards to Frank Morrison and Tom Hand. The rout was completed when Bill Stanton threw a pass to Bill Mead who lateralized to Harry Fenstad for the score. The play covered 65 yards.

Intramural Notes:

Tennis will be played on Saturday at East Potomac. Singles and doubles will be played on the same day. Golf has been extended to November 19. Intramural Representatives are reminded of the important meeting Wednesday.

Austin Yearns To Coach High School

• WHEN GRADUATION tolls the parting knell this year, one of the organizations most seriously affected will undoubtedly be the football team.

Six regulars will depart, leaving coach Bo Sherman with a considerable rebuilding job. And one of the faces he will probably miss most is the clean-cut visage of co-captain Claude ("Bo") Austin.

Regular Buff fullback for the last two years, the 6-2, 190-pounder (who looks deceptively small) from Johnson City, Tennessee, gave ample evidence of his value in his last home appearance against Richmond Friday night. He scored G. W.'s first two touchdowns and was instrumental in the slaughter of the Spiders from Virginia.

Somewhat reticent and most pleasant, Bo seems as likable off the field as he is impressive on it. Though christened Claude, he acquired the name "Bo" early in life through the whim of an older brother who attached the more succinct cognomen to the future fullback in reference to an admired football coach. Given the name of a coach, Bo wants to follow tradition. His plans for the immediate future, if not unexpectedly altered by certain military activities, are to return to Johnson City and to begin coaching at the local high school.

Of course, these plans are not absolutely fixed. Bo has little interest in professional football, but admits to a yearning for a chance to give organized baseball a fling. Bo plays the outfield on the university baseball team, and though he hasn't any definite arrangements for the future, he probably would elect to continue with the National Pastime if the opportunity presented itself.

But if it doesn't, he'll be more than satisfied to return to the site of his birth and upbringing, Johnson City. Bo feels that Washington is "a real nice place" and that the experience of living here has been one of the truly beneficial aspects of his college career. But he prefers the small town, perhaps feeling that his personality and temperament are better keyed to that sort of environment. Not that he wouldn't recommend G. W. to anybody he could convince, for he is now busily trying to persuade a promising home-town gridiron star to give our concrete campus all due consideration. And it may be significant that Dwane Harkle road, a sophomore fullback, also hails from Johnson City.

Bo himself was enticed to Foggy Bottom by a native Tennessean from a nearby town. Howard Bowers, who at the time was backfield coach here, came from Kingsport which is near Johnson City and swung Bo in favor of G. W.

Bo is majoring in physical education, but his second academic love is social studies. His activities and interests have understandably centered around athletics with his two varsity sports and basketball his favorite games. His personal

Delts Capture League B Title

by Bob Lapman

• THE RESULTS of final league games are:

League A—Alpha Epsilon Pi 12-Sigma Nu (A) 0; Kappa Alpha won on a forfeit from the Newman club; Phi Kappa Alpha 41-Sigma Phi Epsilon 0. League B—Delta Theta Phi won on a forfeit from the Med School; Theta Tau won on a forfeit from Tau Kappa Epsilon; Delta Tau Delta (A) 25-Tau Epsilon Phi 0. League C—Sigma Chi 12-Law School 7; ROTC 13-Delta Tau Delta (B) 6. League D—Kappa Sigma 19-Acacia 0; Phi Sigma Kappa 33-Sigma Nu (B) 0.

A protest has been lodged by Sigma Nu concerning the eligibility of Mike Sileo of Pi Kappa Alpha. It appeared that Sileo had received a letter from the varsity football squad and therefore is not allowed to participate in Intramural football. The alleged violation will be reviewed by professor DeAngelis, head of the Intramural department, and the Intramural council or a Faculty board. If Sileo is declared ineligible, Pi Kappa Alpha will have to forfeit the two games that he played in against Alpha Epsilon Pi and the Newman club. This means that League A will be thrown into a playoff with AEPI and the Newman club having identical records of four wins and one loss. If Sileo is declared eligible, PIKA will be the winner, not having lost a game.

HIGHLIGHTS:

PIKA won its last game of the season with big John Jolly catching three touchdown passes. Warren Lytle scored twice on runs of 60 and 15 yards. It was Pike (See MURALS, Page 7)

Austin Bulls For Two Touchdowns

• GEORGE WASHINGTON ended its home season in fine style Friday night, crushing Richmond 32-6, to complete a sweep of the four-game home schedule.

The Buff partially atoned for last week's loss to West Virginia by controlling the upset-minded Spiders. The Colonials played a very alert defensive game in chalking up their sixth win of the season. They were tackling viciously, a la West Virginia, and jarred six fumbles from Richmond backs. G. W. recovered five times and intercepted three passes.

Co-captain Bo Austin finally flashed the form that made him the second leading ground gainer for the Buff last year. Austin scored the first two touchdowns, from six and four yards out respectively.

G. W., scoring in every quarter, didn't have far to travel for any of its scores. The longest drive carried 59 yards; other touchdowns came from 12, 22, 37, and 18 yards.

The Buff struck pay dirt late in the first quarter after being stopped on the Spider 13 a few minutes previously. Paul Thompson set up the score by recovering a fumble on the Richmond 12-yard line. Ray Looney picked up two on a keeper. Mike Ennis, who replaced Mike Sommer in the starting lineup, hit for four yards to the six. Austin then zoomed through the baffled Spiders for the touchdown and Dick Claypool converted.

The second Buff score followed Richmond halfback George Rigg's fumble of Austin's punt on the Spider 22. On the first play Looney was hit for an eight-yard loss to the 30. But Looney connected with Thompson for 26 yards on the following play to move down to the four. Austin cracked over for his second touchdown. Claypool missed the extra point.

G. W. missed two more opportunities near the end of the half. The Buff recovered a fumble on the Richmond 26 and moved to the 10 before being stopped on the six.

The Spiders scored near the end of the game. Joe Gagliano passed 26 and 11 yards in moving the ball to the Buff 27. Fullback Bill Zupich broke through the G. W. line and went all the way for the touchdown.
